“ I have so many memories that I will keep in my heart Forever. Thinking back , I can hear his laugh , smell the black licorice candy , and remember what it felt like to lay next to my grandpa and watch old westerns on the tv. I can remember the excitement at the dining room table playing poker , and going to the horse track. I will always remember how special I felt when my grandpa and grandma came to visit me as an adult in my very first house and getting to meet my first born son . I'm really glad we got to share the few phone calls we did recently. I love you grandpa , and I know you are in a better place , with grandma and aunt chris . Until we meet again , I will miss you and treasure the memories I have.
