“ Wayne,
I am so saddened to hear about Frankie. I met her through banking classes in the early 70's, lost touch for a while and had the pleasure of working with her for many years at BB&T. You all are in my thoughts and prayers, with love,

“ I sincerely thank Wayne Wheeler, Frankie’s husband, for his endless, selfless devotion to my sister’s care until her death. Unable to rely on others because of concerns over COVID-19, Wayne was at her side every day for many, many months as her sole caregiver, daily attending to her every need and want, her medications, and the drives to Columbia for her treatments even as her cancer placed greater demands on him. Frankie was blessed to have him in her life. I am also deeply grateful to Elaine Sanner, Wayne’s sister, who offered support by bringing meals, running errands, attending to the pets when Frankie was in treatment and other assistance, always respectful of their personal wishes. I hope I, as well as my family and friends, will have a “Wayne” in their lives. If so, we will all be blessed. With love,
Muggie/Morgan Chapman Spiecker

“ Wayne, John, Muggie

We mourn Frankie's loss from this earthly journey, but rejoice that she's obtained the peace we're promised when we are born. Our four decades long nursing careers instilled in us respect for life, especially quality life. At the same time, we learned that health care has finite limits and cannot alter ones ultimate destiny. We can comfort, medicate, and assist someone up to a point; beyond that point, they join with those who've already gained their wings, as they gain their wings.

It is then that we enter that place without pain, sorrow, or suffering and gain eternal rest. While we feel the loss, we remember the time we were honored to be with them, and bid farewell until we're reunited when it's the end of our journey.

So know that we empathize and love you and Frankie, pray that the Great Comforter holds your hands in His, and grants you solace, acceptance, and relief.

Sincerely

Dick and Sandra Daffin

*Dick and Sandra,
Thank you so much for your kind and thoughtful words and understanding. It is so painful it is to lose another family member to cancer. Cancer shows no mercy.*

We will dearly miss her, but as you say, the Great Comforter holds her in his hands, too.

*Thank you so much.
Good health and peace to you and yours.
Muggie*
