“ So this is the last time that I get to tell you how much you mean to me and how much I love you little brother. You will always be in my heart. I know you're at peace now but I can't seem to forget how much alike we really were. I promise you little brother I will look after our mother even though you did most of it in the past and that's doesn't fill very good having to feel your shoes. I love you baby brother and you tell everyone up there that I love them and I will be there soon. R.I P Michael I love you
